NO! I do not think our senators should get a raise at all. We would then be more expensive than any other state, so I hear. I have heard the the benefits senators receive add up to much more than the current salaries. I am not sure what any of our representatives are doing to make a difference in this very expensive state we live in. They should somehow bring down the cost of living so they can live within their means. Is this raise eventually coming out of taxpayer pockets? How much more can we be taxed especially when our representatives are not really representing us. Do our senators really represent the people?? Maybe some do but it's hard to know.
